The program calls for a 400,000-sq-ft elementary school on a sloping and small site, within a newly developed residential community.

Two classroom wings radiate from a central, multi-purpose open-air courtyard in variety of outdoor spaces.

The exterior of the school has a Mediterranean theme to fit in with the surrounding residences, and features cascading steel roof planes and wall panels over the central spaces.

The design program for the entire program is a challenge to fit and harmonize a large school building and a great site for the community.
